

FLAMES ENVELOP ENTIRE VILLAGE

Natural Gas Explosion Starts
Disastrous Blaze in Pine Grove, W. Va.

MAN AND HORSES ARE BURNED

About All That Is Left of the Thrifty Town Is a Bank's Vaults.

(By Associated Press.)

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., October 31.—Fire practically wiped out the little town of Pine Grove, in Wetzel county, today. Starting with a natural gas explosion in the Pine Grove Hotel, it swept everything before it for several hours, and the entire business portion of the town is in ashes. Dynamite was finally used to stop the flames, buildings in the path of the fire being blown up. The loss will reach about $125,000. Insurance, $10,000. The Pine Grove Hotel, the Commercial Hotel, the Methodist Church (almost new), the Pine Grove Bank, the Morgan block, covering half a square, and the livery stable, in which twenty horses were burned. Samuel Steen, a teamster, who was sleeping in the Pine Grove Hotel, was burned to death. More than thirty buildings in the town were destroyed. About fifteen of the buildings burned were residences. The others were business houses, livery and churches, etc. The bank vaults were not destroyed. The postoffice was burned.

POLYGAMY IN FOREIGN FIELDS

(Continued From First Page.)

In the last five years as shown by comparative reports, it has entered a wider area of usefulness and Christian work, and its domestic and foreign mission posts have achieved a numerous conversion to its faith.

Morning Session.

The fifth session of the Synod was opened yesterday with devotional exercises, conducted by the Rev. P. F. Flournoy.

The following names were selected to fill any vacancies that may occur during the coming year in the board of directors of Hampden-Sidney College: E. Lee Trinkle, of Wytheville; C. C. Lewis, Jr., of Charleston, W. Va.; John Finley, more, Md.; George C. Caske, Lynchburg; Rev. H. T. Graham.

The committee on the Twentieth Century Fund reported that it had in hand $364.4, and it was directed to turn over this amount to the directors of the Union Theological Seminary.

A report was made by the committee, to which had been referred the question of religious liberty for the naval cadets at Annapolis. It would seem that the naval cadets have little choice in the selection of the church which they shall attend, but must do as directed by the authorities of the academy. The committee reported that it met with great difficulty in securing any consideration of the subject from the Secretary of the Navy or any of the officials with whom it conferred. The report recommended that the effort in this direction be continued "until the naval authorities shall have put themselves on record as to the religious liberties of the cadets. In order that the parents of our church and other Protestant churches may have definite knowledge of the fact that religious freedom is secured for every citizen of the country, they put their sons in the country where they seek for those sons the possibility of supposed honor and emolument from the Federal government in the navy of our country."

In order to continue the agitation of this question and to make a report to the next meeting of the Synod, the following committee was appointed: Mr. C. C. Bradley, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. Andrew C. Trappe, Baltimore, Md.; Mr. C. W. Moore, Charleston, W. Va.

Proposed Female College.

A most animated debate as to whether a committee should be appointed to take into consideration the establishment of a synodical female college occurred. It was argued on the one side that the church ought not to embark in any secular education, and that it was not necessary. On the other hand, those in favor of such a resolution claimed that there is a need for such an institution, and that the church should not be left out of the secular education of its own people. The Synod appointed the following committee to report at the next meeting: Rev. W. M. Hunter, of Newport News; Rev. Dr. W. C. Campbell, of Roanoke; Rev. Dr. W. M. White, of Petersburg; Professor W. S. Carroll, of Lexington; Mr. P. W. Magruder, of Woodstock.

A committee to devise ways and means for raising $50,000 endowment for the R. L. Dabney chair of systematic theology in Theological Seminary was appointed as follows: Judge A. A. Philgar, of Christiansburg; Mr. Thomas B. Gresham, of Baltimore; and Mr. Isaac T. Mann, of New York.

Question of Union.

The committee appointed to respond to Parkersburg, W. Va.; J. Scott Parrish, Richmond; Rev. Harris E. Kirk, Baltimore; Rev. H. H. Swann, of Ministerial Education and Relief reported that of the churches of the Synod, 172 contributed $1,491.18 for education, one society gave $100, and seven Sunday schools gave $1,434, making a total of $1,995.61. The Synod was asked to raise $5,500.

For ministerial relief, 258 churches gave $1,398.88, one society gave $14, and ten Sunday schools gave $30.07, making a total of $1,432.95. For this cause the Synod was asked to raise $5,500. For the endowment fund eighteen churches gave $1,602.01, and one society gave $30; a total of $1,632.01.

Rev. William S. Campbell, secretary of the Public Society of Virginia, made an address on the work in which the society is engaged. He spoke of the needs of the work, both in this State and in the world at large, and told of the work being done. Rev. H. C. V. Campbell and Dr. P. D. Stephenson also spoke on this subject, emphasizing the importance of this work.

Rev. H. C. V. Campbell and Rev. J. K. Hines were appointed a committee to respond to this address.

In answer to the overture of Rev. R. W. Jopling, asking this Synod to place itself on record as being opposed to entering into closer relation with other Presbyterian churches, the Bills and Overseers Committee presented the following report, which was adopted without debate.

While approving many elements of the overture presented by Rev. R. W. Jopling, Synod declines to adopt it, and hereby declares that the Synod desires as close relations between the Southern Presbyterian Church and other churches as can be sustained in our present standards as can be interpreted by us and without encouraging new divisions.

But the Synod earnestly deprecates any plan or movement for closer relations that would endanger the truth committed to our trust or disturb the peace existing among us.

Question of Polygamy.

The discussion of the question of polygamy arose over an adverse report by the committee appointed to act on the overture of Dr. Laws. The overture invoked the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to make deliverance without delay as follows:

1. That no church under its care shall be allowed to tolerate the polygamous or concubinary relation on the part of any of its members, whether in Christian or in heathen lands.

2. That when any man in polygamous relations offers for membership, every wife except the one first married, if alive and faithful, shall be repudiated.

3. That if the so-called wife or wives thus repudiated or their children, or both be dependent, then the church shall kindly assist him in their support, if it need be.

Converts from heathenism should be treated very tenderly in this most painful situation, and yet they should be dealt with in all fidelity; and when a man is called to separate from his first and only wife, he should be enjoined to make due provision for the full extent of his ability. (See More's Digest, p. 507.)

4. In like manner, any woman in polygamous or polyandrous relation shall abandon the same as a condition of Christian communion and church membership.

5. That the Committee on Home and Foreign Missions are hereby enjoined and ordered to promptly and firmly enforce this rule.

The report of the committee was presented by Dr. Frazer. It advised that the Synod let the matter drop and take no action.

The Rev. Mr. Morrison, a missionary to Africa, spoke in favor of not dealing with polygamy in the Synod, and told how the missionaries worked hard to handle that question at close range. He was promptly and vigorously taken to task by Dr. Laws.

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

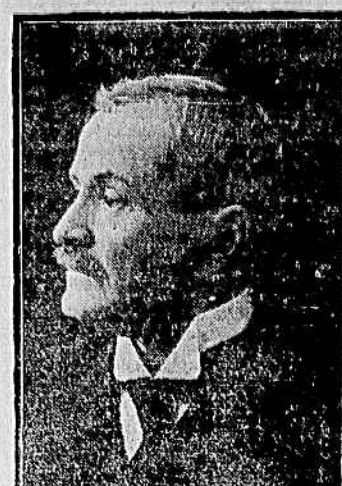

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Mr. Morrison, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

PROMINENT CANDIDATES FOR THE STATE SENATE

COL. A. M. BOWMAN, OF SALEM.

Colonel A. M. Bowman, of Salem, is a member of the present House, and is the nominee of his party for another term. Colonel Bowman represents, along with Hon. Aylett B. Colman, the district composed of Roanoke city and county, and is a most valuable and painstaking member.

He is a native of Augusta county, though he has resided in Salem for many years. He was one of the St. Louis World's Fair commissioners from the part of Virginia, and had much to do with the success of the State exhibit.

Colonel Bowman is a member of the Capitol Rebuilding Commission, and takes a deep interest in the work. He was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Sixth District upon the death of Major Peter J. Otey, but was defeated by Hon. Carter Glass, of Lynchburg.

Colonel Bowman is manager for the Diamond Orchard Company, situated in Roanoke county, which is one of the largest institutions of its kind in the South. He is serving his second term in the House, and his prospects for re-election are very bright.

There is no member of the General Assembly who enjoys a fuller measure of the public confidence than does Colonel Bowman.

monogamy. He said it is the duty of the church to expound the laws of God, and that the admitting of a polygamist into church membership would be a tacit endorsement of the position of the church on the subject and would, moreover, endanger its principles. In a lengthy argument, he advocated the strictest adherence to the principles of monogamy, as taught in the law of God, and asked that an overture be sent to the General Assembly, which should appoint an ad interim committee to consider the subject.

He said that he regarded the speech of Dr. Finley as most disheartening to the welfare of the church and the principles of its belief.

The subject was further discussed by Dr. Ramsey and Dr. A. C. Hopkins. The general idea of their arguments was that the strict enforcement of monogamy among the heathen converts would mean the destruction of all the missionary work, and that it would be impossible immediately to extricate a custom of such long standing, and one in which the heathen had made suddenly, would meet with a miserable failure, the heathen would be lost to them, and the Presbyterian mission work would come to an end.

Neither speaker would have it that he stood for polygamy, but they differed as to the manner and the procedure of such a move and the systematic procedure of such a move and the systematic procedure of such a move.

Contrary to the deepest principles of the marriage relation among the heathen, the church on the side of plural wives. The discussion being ended by the late, Dr. Frazer for the overture of the Bills and Overtures Committee to the General Assembly, as amended by Dr. J. P. Smith, is that the matter be left in the hands of the missionaries themselves, and that the Synod adopt the substitute as the action of the house, and the motion was carried almost unanimously.

The great meeting adjourned with the signing of the doxology and the prayer by Moderator Donaldson. The next meeting will take place October 25, 1905, in the First Church, Staunton, Va.

Reports were read and passed concerning the address of Rev. W. S. Campbell, secretary of the Synod, and the work of the Synod, and the hearty cooperation of the church in it.

Dr. H. H. Swann was introduced as a visiting minister.

The discussion on the subject of polygamy was resumed. Dr. Finley took the floor and in a lengthy argument approved the overture to the General Assembly, and deprecated all discussion of the matter, as to how the work of God is to be interpreted to heathenism, and the work of God is to be interpreted to heathenism, and the work of God is to be interpreted to heathenism.

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

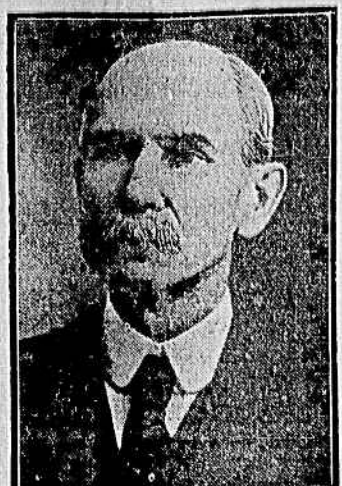

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

Dr. Finley, in answer to a question whether polygamists should be taken into the church, said that the Synod threw no light on the question of a convert being taken into the church who had been in a polygamous relation.

MAJOR B. W. LYNN, OF LOUDOUN.

The Eleventh Senatorial District, composed of Loudoun and Fauquier, will be represented in the coming General Assembly by Major B. W. Lynn, formerly superintendent of the State Penitentiary.

Major Lynn is a man of deserved popularity, and won the nomination for the Senate over two strong competitors in the recent primary.

He comes from a district which has nearly always sent men of prominence and ability to the Legislature. The late Henry Heaton was long the Senator from Loudoun, and upon his death, the people of Loudoun and Fauquier sent Hon. Henry Fairfax to the body, and kept him there until he died of the honor.

Major Lynn is a farmer and cattle breeder, and is widely and favorably known throughout his district. He was for several terms superintendent of the State Penitentiary, and was popular with all those under him. He is well-known in Richmond, where he lived during his incumbency in the office mentioned above.

Major Lynn will have no trouble at the election next Tuesday, as the Eleventh District is always safely Democratic.

"PROFESSOR NAPOLEON" AT ACADEMY TO-MORROW

Miss Gussie Reinhardt to Sing
Child's Part—Sale of Tickets Begins.

Only two more days, and the much heralded musical extravaganza of college life, "Professor Napoleon," gives its first public presentation at the Academy of Music. The box office opens this morning at 9 o'clock for the sale and exchange of reserved seat tickets.

Quite an impetus was given rehearsals when it was announced yesterday that Mrs. A. J. Montague was chairman of the hundreds of patrons and patronesses, who will attend one of the performances.

The Governor's staff will occupy two of the boxes Friday night. As stated before, Saturday night will be foot-ball night, the stage being specially decorated with the colors of Georgetown and North Carolina. The boxes on the right, and will occupy the boxes on the right, and will occupy the boxes on the right.

The North Carolina players, Friday night all the members of the Blues who will not take part on the stage will attend in full dress uniform, accompanied by their ladies.

All excitement and confusion at the rehearsal rooms, in the Armory building. Only two more days in which to perfect every little detail. The public little realize the immense amount of labor necessary to stage this mammoth college piece, with its 729 participants.

Every detail, every intricate step, every ballet and every costume must be perfect before the curtain rises Friday night. The stage managers, electricians and carpenters for the production have already arrived from New York. Heavy crates and trunks are being unpacked. The scenery will be taken from the storehouse to the theatre stage Thursday morning and placed in readiness.

Extra musicians have been engaged to assist the already efficient Academy orchestra. The Automobile Girls and Chacateurs, in charge of Mrs. C. C. Menor, and the Senior Girls and Chacateurs, in charge of Mrs. C. C. Menor, were in charge of Mrs. C. C. Menor, and the Senior Girls and Chacateurs, in charge of Mrs. C. C. Menor.

The Japanese Girls will pose for their pictures to-day.

Special cars will be run to all suburbs after the performance to accommodate out-of-town patrons. The final full dress rehearsal of all the 729 participants will be held on the Academy stage Thursday evening and night. No one will be permitted to be present at this rehearsal, except the chaperones and newspaper reporters.

Miss Gussie Reinhardt, the accomplished daughter of Professor Reinhardt, will sing the child's role of Ines Flak in "Professor Napoleon." The part of Ines Flak is a person who can faithfully depict a child. Miss Reinhardt has much acting in this role, but she is especially strong in the "Grandma" song, which she sings to Senator Flak in the first act. She is accompanied in this song by a chorus of old men and old women from Midlet City. It is during the weird incident scene, when the wizard, which part is taken by Mr. John Hinton, transforms all the old folks to youth again. Mr. J. Conrad Hutchison ably handles the role of Senator Flak.

Death Ended the Case.

The case of Charles Danbridge, indicted for maliciously wounding William Jones, was called in the Hustings Court yesterday, but the defendant answered not. It was announced that since the indictment was found the defendant, who had been held for his appearance at this term of the court, had obeyed an order of the court, and had been held for his appearance at this term of the court.

The case of Charles Danbridge, indicted for maliciously wounding William Jones, was called in the Hustings Court yesterday, but the defendant answered not. It was announced that since the indictment was found the defendant, who had been held for his appearance at this term of the court, had obeyed an order of the court, and had been held for his appearance at this term of the court.

The case of Charles Danbridge, indicted for maliciously wounding William Jones, was called in the Hustings Court yesterday, but the defendant answered not. It was announced that since the indictment was found the defendant, who had been held for his appearance at this term of the court, had obeyed an order of the court, and had been held for his appearance at this term of the court.

The case of Charles Danbridge, indicted for maliciously wounding William Jones, was called in the Hustings Court yesterday, but the defendant answered not. It was announced that since the indictment was found the defendant, who had been held for his appearance at this term of the court, had obeyed an order of the court, and had been held for his appearance at this term of the court.

The case of Charles Danbridge, indicted for maliciously wounding William Jones, was called in the Hustings Court yesterday, but the defendant answered not. It was announced that since the indictment was found the defendant, who had been held for his appearance at this term of the court, had obeyed an order of the court, and had been held for his appearance at this term of the court.

The case of Charles Danbridge, indicted for maliciously wounding William Jones, was called in the Hustings Court yesterday, but the defendant answered not. It was announced that since the indictment was found the defendant, who had been held for his appearance at this term of the court, had obeyed an order of the court, and had been held for his appearance at this term of the court.

The case of Charles Danbridge, indicted for maliciously wounding William Jones, was called in the Hustings Court yesterday, but the defendant answered not. It was announced that since the indictment was found the defendant, who had been held for his appearance at this term of the court, had obeyed an order of the court, and had been held for his appearance at this term of the court.

EVER TOO ROTTEN FOR NEW YORKERS

Police Stop the Production of
"Mrs. Warren's Profession" in That City.

ARREST GARRICK'S MANAGER

Commissioner McAdoo Attends
Performance and Concludes
It Limit of Stage Indecency.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The police today stopped the production of George Bernard Shaw's play, "Mrs. Warren's Profession," by arresting Samuel Gumpertz, manager of the Garrick Theatre, in which the play made its first New York appearance last night, on a charge of offending public decency in smutty performance. Police Commissioner McAdoo ordered that all further performances of the play cease.

Manager Gumpertz was paroled on his promise to bring with him to court tomorrow all the members of the company and also former State Senator W. H. Reynolds, owner of the Garrick Theatre.

Police Commissioner McAdoo himself saw the play last night and conferred with Mayor McEllan to-day before issuing his order. He warned the company that anyone participating in further performances of this play would be arrested.

Arnold Daly gave the following statement this afternoon at the office of his counsel:

"I announced in the beginning that I would constitute the dramatic critics of New York a jury to pass upon the fitness or unfitness of 'Mrs. Warren's Profession.' Their verdict was rendered to-day. It was against the piece and I will stand by my word. I will make no attempt to repeat the performance to-night."

It is said that Mr. Daly has spent $19,000 preparing "Mrs. Warren's Profession" for production.

This notice, signed "Arnold Daly," was posted outside the Garrick Theatre to-night.

"Further performances of 'Mrs. Warren's Profession' will be discontinued, owing to the universal condemnation of the press."

A large force of policemen was at the theatre and had difficulty in keeping an immense crowd that had gathered, in order. The theatre was closed and two men in the box office were busy refunding money paid for tickets.

The management announced that the theatre will be opened to-morrow night with another of Shaw's plays, "Candida."

THE TRAIN TROUBLE IS WELL SETTLED

Governor of Nankin Apologizes to American Admiral and His Son.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, October 31.—The incident growing out of the attack on Admiral Train and his son by a Chinese mob near Nanking has been satisfactorily adjusted. The State Department to-day received a dispatch which said:

"Admiral Train has just arrived at Shanghai. The incident occurred near Nanking October 24th. Train and his party were shooting. A woman was accidentally wounded by Train's son, but her injuries were not serious. The son was detained by the mob, but an amicable settlement was made. The mob afterwards attacked and two Chinese were wounded by two civilians. No sailors took part in the engagement."

The Governor of Nankin apologized to the officers, restored their guns, and punished the ringleaders of the mob. The incident is regarded as closed."

COTTON BULLETIN.

Wet Weather Delays Picking and Causes Much Injury.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 31.—The weekly cotton region weather crop bulletin, issued by the Weather Bureau, says:

In districts where the proportion of un-picked cotton is large, the wet weather conditions of the week ending October 30th, were not favorable.

Wet weather over a large part of the Central and Western Districts of the cotton belt during the forepart of the week delayed cotton picking and caused injury to the cotton in Northern Texas, Oklahoma and Indian Territories, Arkansas, the northern portions of Mississippi and Alabama and Western Tennessee. As a whole the week was cool. Frosts occurred in the Central and Western Districts, causing considerable damage in Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Oklahoma, and Indian Territories, but practically none in Texas.

In the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida the weather conditions were favorable. Picking is from one-half to two-thirds completed in Oklahoma and Indian Territories, Arkansas, Mississippi and Alabama. There has been a much larger proportion of the crop has been gathered in other sections, picking being practically completed in the more southerly districts.

FAMILY OF SEVEN IS KILLED BY CAVE-IN

(By Associated Press.)

BELLAIRE, O., October 31.—Sylvester Kendall, aged fifty-two, wife and seven children, were caught by a fall of soapstone in the Maley and Johnson mine, near here, to-day and instantly killed.

TRAVELING LIBRARIES.

Two more traveling libraries have been presented to the State, coming from the Church Periodical Club of New York. The effort of the Library Board to make the Virginia State Library literally a library for the people of the entire State, has found its greatest success in the traveling library system, says Librarian Kennedy. "It can no longer be said in criticism of the State Library that it is merely municipal in the privileges extended, whereas the whole State pays the benefit, owing to the generosity of the citizens throughout the State, and particularly here in Richmond, some twenty-five traveling libraries are now in the field. These collections consist of fifty volumes of assorted literature carefully chosen and sent to the library stations packed in an oxen case. They are looked after by a local library board. They have proved so attractive that every book in every library shows much turning."

IT NEEDS NO MATCH.
IGNITO
IT HAS NO MATCH.

The only gas mantle in the world that lights itself by merely turning on the gas.

Complete Ignito Outfit, consisting of Ignito mantle, Ignito gas regulating and economizing burner (burner branded Ignito) and imported opal Q globe. Now on sale at

N. Klein & Son
620 East Broad Street,
RICHMOND, VA.

PRICE, $1.25 COMPLETE.

See demonstration of the wonderful new light. During introduction of this light in Richmond the price, $1.25, will include installation.

Ainslie Carriage Company

10 South Tenth Street.

...Runabouts at Cost...

We have in stock a number of high-grade, fully guaranteed Runabouts, rubber or steel tire, which we are selling at a sacrifice. These vehicles are strictly first class and can be bought for the price of the ordinary kind.

We are making a specialty of a Medium-Grade Buggy, and offer as a leader a ## Top Buggy for $50.

Let us show you this Buggy.

THE JEFFERSON TURKISH, RUSSIAN AND ROMAN BATHS.

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT. OUTSIDE CALLS, PHONE 3191.

Massage, Electric and Sulphur Treatment a Specialty. Physical Culture and Swimming Lessons given Ladies, Gentlemen and Children.

Chiropractic and Ingrowing Nails Successfully Treated. Rheumatism in All Its Forms Given Instant Relief. Shampooing Ladies' Hair, $1.00. Ladies' Hours, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M., except Sunday. Gentlemen's Hours, from 2 P. M. to 9 A. M., Daily.

SINGLE BATHS, $1.00 SIX TICKETS, $5.00. THIRTEEN TICKETS, $10.00.

EMPORIA ORGANIZES A FAIR ASSOCIATION

A Race Course and Agricultural Fair Grounds Are Selected.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

EMPORIA, October 31.—A meeting of prominent citizens of this section assembled within the courthouse last night and decided to organize an agricultural fair.